1.

The space shuttle has to take a spy sattelite to a spot 1200 m above the Earth's surface and release it into a geosynchronous orbit. Is this possible? If yes, how fast must the satellite be moving when it is released?

2.

Kepler's third law is a statement of

- a) Conservation of energy.
- b) Conservation of angular momentum.
- c) both
- d) neither