

A football is kicked at ground level in such a way that the horizontal component of its initial velocity is 7 m/s, while the vertical component is 10 m/s. When it returns to the ground, the football will have a speed of:

- 10.0 m/s.
- None of the above.
- 17m/s.
- 12.2 m/s